Registration Deadline:

June 7th, 2019

Who is Eligible ?

Any 4-H Youth who has a 4-H project horse identified may attend 4-H Horse Dayz; as long as the horse/rider combination passes the Rider Evaluation indicating that they are safe to ride. All participants (except cloverbuds) must meet at least the beginner rider requirements. Cloverbud members are only to ride in the Cloverbud sessions.

Meals:

Lunch will be provided daily to 4-H youth participants and volunteers. Dinner will only be provided to 4-H youth participants and volunteers for the evenings indicated in the schedule. No additional meals will be provided.

Covered Dish Dinner:

Wednesday, July 10th (5:00-6:00pm): All families attending the covered dish dinner must bring a dish to pass which can feed 15-20 people. Please include the number of people attending the covered dish dinner on each youth's registration form. Attendees must be signed up to attend the dinner.

Tack Swap:

This is an inexpensive way to buy and sell horse "stuff." Bring your tack, outgrown riding attire, etc. labeled with your name and price and leave it on the table in the indoor arena at the beginning of camp. If you see something you wish to buy, find the seller and carry out your transaction!

Riding Level Divisions:

Beginner- Must be able to put halter on and lead equine safely. Able to put saddle and bridle on (possibly with help, if the horse is large). Ride by themselves and have passed the walk/trot/jog evaluation.

Intermediate- All of Beginner skills plus, passed the riding evaluation for walk/trot/canter/lope. Rider and/or horse may not be highly skilled yet, and still working on the basics of riding. Must know rules for riding in a group.

Advanced- All beginner and intermediate skills plus pass the riding evaluation for walk/trot/canter/lope, have more show experience and looking for more advanced skill development beyond the basics of riding. Leads to count and diagonals.

Cloverbuds: (5-7 years old as of January 1st, 2019)

Cloverbud youth will be participating daily from 4pm-5pm in equine educational sessions and brief riding lessons. Cloverbuds will learn the basics of the equine project such as behavior, proper care, basic tack and the beginning mechanics of riding.

Parental Rules & Expectations:

- ◆ In an effort to foster youth independence and peer leadership, parents of participating youth will be asked to not assist the youth with chores pertaining to stable management.
- ◆ Become fully aware of all rules, expectations, and consequences below while accepting decisions made by the rules committee.
- ◆ Provide child with an ASTM-SEI approved helmet that fits properly, is in good condition, has chin strap, and proper riding boots with heels.

- ◆ Provide child with meals and sufficient beverages for dinner on the days that dinner is not provided.
- ◆ No child who is not actively participating shall be left at horse dayz unattended. This includes siblings of registered youth participants.
- ◆ If you will not be at Horse Dayz, and your child is actively involved, you must provide written acceptance of responsibility from another adult.
- ◆ Make sure your child follows the rules and expectations for Horse Dayz participants.
- ◆ Follow the same rules as outlined for the participants. Ex. You must wear a helmet and boots when riding; and Absolutely NO sandals or flip flops when handling horses.
- ◆ If the committee finds it necessary to send the child or horse home for any reason, the parent will make prompt arrangements to do so and abide by that decision.
- ◆ Remember that you are a role model for the youth, act as you would want to see them act and don't behave as you wouldn't want them to behave.
- ◆ ALL 4-H members staying on fairgrounds must be accompanied by a parent in the same camper/tent. If wishing to stay with another adult, that person MUST be an approved 4-H Volunteer and have a permission form signed by both the parent, the volunteer and the 4-H Educator prior to staying over night.

- ◆ Riding is only permitted in the instruction areas. No riding anywhere else on the fairgrounds.
- ◆ Youth must care for their own horse. Participants may help each other (within reason), but NO ADULT should be doing the stable work and tacking of participants horses. Cloverbuds and Beginners may have some adult assistance if their horse is too large to tack alone, but it is still the member who should be doing the tacking.
- ◆ Youth must have a stall sign on each stall. This will be provided for you to fill out.
- ◆ Follow directions from Horse Dayz officials and instructors. If youth misbehave and fail to follow directions he or she will be subject to evaluation by the grievance committee* and may be asked to leave the program.
- ◆ Under no circumstances shall any youth ride a horse that is not their project horse.
- ◆ No bikes or scooters in the barn area.
