A brief annual meeting including Elections of Directors-at-Large & Issue Committee Members, a review of program year 2009-2010, and recognitions precede program.

John McPherson is an internationally-syndicated cartoonist whose Close to Home appears in more than 700 newspapers from The Washington Post, The Los Angeles Times, The Tokyo Times, to The Hanoi Daily News. He has published over 20 book collections of his cartoons, has an award-winning line of numerous licensed products. John is part of The HUMOR Project's Speakers Bureau and has been an active speaker for organizations, schools, associations, hospitals, and human service agencies around the country.

Born and raised in Painted Post, NY, this former mechanical engineer now has over 8000 published cartoons to his credit. John has been a back-by-popular demand presenter ten times at The HUMOR Project's renowned international humor conference. At the June 2010 conference, he gave a highly-acclaimed presentation on "The Lighter Side of Work: Laughing Your Way Through Your Work Daze."
